L-com... YOUR SOURCE FOR ALL COAXIAL CABLE ASSEMBLY REQUIREMENTS

Everything Coaxial!

At L-com, we design, manufacture and assemble whatever coaxial requirement you have. Whether you only need certain components, such as cable, connectors, adapters, couplers, accessories, tools and kits or complete coax assemblies, L-com has you covered!

L-com...Your Best Source for Coax Products

Choose from one of the industry's largest selections of standard coax products from our catalog.

- Bulk cable—Low loss, RG Series and Low PIM
- Hundreds of standard coax connectors and adapters
- Hundreds of standard coax assemblies

L-com - When Standard is Not Enough

L-com can also modify any of these products to suit your specific needs. In addition, L-com expert engineers can design and provide the exact custom component or assembly you need.

As a quality manufacturer of high-reliability connectivity for more than 30 years, and as a value-added service provider, only L-com offers this unique package of customer benefits:

- The largest selection of coax components and assemblies
- The passionate service, flexibility and expert engineering capabilities to modify or customize the products you need
- Quick turn-around on custom work
- Competitive pricing

“Our coax cable requirements for GPS systems included special packaging as well as detailed component specs. L-com provided this at a very competitive cost, while meeting a demanding delivery schedule. We are confident in making L-com our main source for coax products.”

GPS Systems OEM

“Without the custom low-loss coax cabling provided by L-com, our sports/entertainment complexes would not be able to function. L-com has delivered to all of our U.S. locations on time, preventing costly delays in construction time and costs.”

Entertainment Venue Operator

“We required coax cable assemblies and adapters with low visibility, and L-com delivered. Their products helped eliminate reflective components that might compromise security.”
