

What is the difference between a plug and a jack?

People often have difficulty choosing the correct gender termination on cable assemblies. Plugs are considered male gendered connectors which utilize a center pin. Jacks are considered female gendered connectors utilizing a center socket.

A PLUG utilizes a center pin =
MALE GENDER

A JACK utilizes a center socket =
FEMALE GENDER