

Manufacturing Network Application

This diagram is representational only and depicts a typical manufacturing network application. The diagram encompasses Ethernet, RS-232, RS-485, and WiFi connectivity to provide an end to end manufacturing network solution.